Significant Controversy

Usually the Anti-Saloon League gets its legislation through in a hurry and without difficulty. The emergence of the scarch and scivary controversy is the most significant thing that has happened since the nation went dry. The Anti-Saloon League leaders are threatening to carry their fight to the political conventions of both parties, but so long as it is one section of the chances are remote that either convention will care to go on record against search and seizure without warrant.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality-and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy-because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

WHERE SOME OF THE WASTE AND LOSS

COMES IN. Every western state has been a sufferer from the crocks who have sold stocks for every conregivable kind of a corporation and in most cases have promised returns of from 25 to 50 per cent. In the end the stocks have in nearly every case been found to be worthless, the companies, frauds, the expected dividends chimeras, and the entire investment gone forever without hope of recovery or redress. Warnings over and over have been bootless. 'Advice to consult the home bank has been accepted with suspleion that the banker was in a capitalistic conspiracy to keep the investor from receiving his just due. THE SIEGE OF WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C .- This city is being made Meeca by an increasing number of veterans of the World war, who find dealing with the govrnment by mail too slow for their taste. The other day, an ex-soldler with three medals or valor and achievement in the war, dropped nto Washington from a distant city via an exress train. He felt that compensation was due him because he had served throughout the war and had been wounded. He claimed shell shock. but an examination showed that if he had been affected, he was now in excellent health. So he set out for the long journey home with the same affected, he was now in excellent health. So he cet out for the long journey home with the same And all the burdens which its children bear; answer that would have been given him in less time had he gone to his American Legion post lime had he gone to his American Legion post only fair.

And soothes the hurts and makes their members here here and called it to be in him.

back home and asked it to help him.

This is one case. The general condition is that Washington each day to see about compensation which they claim is due them. Now that the about $10 a day at large them. Now that the about $20 a day all hoping that are increasing to about $20 a day all hoping that are increasing to a day all hoping that are increasing to a day all hoping that are increasing to a service when days are bitter with despair.

Be true when days are bitter with despair. about 30 a day, all hoping that the new law will tavor them. Sooner or later, these men are interviewed by Soner or later, these men are interviewed by Commander W. F. Franklin of the Costello post of the American Legion. Costello post takes care of them and helps them to get their cases considered. Investigation shows that only 40 per cent of these men have any legitimate grounds for asking compensation. The other 60 per cent are men who either misund stand the government laws on compensation, or as Commander Franklin puts it "have acquired a chronic dislike for work," and think the government owes

"So he sets out for Washington, generally beatng his way on the trains, and tramping, and vorking here and there for a meal. He is coninced that once he tells his story to his congressnan, that dignitary will say the magic word and he doors of the treasury will be flung open for

How to deal with these men-many of them the left flap of your soft coller. war heroes—has been a problem for Washing-ton, and especially for the Costello post. This post of the American Legion is composed of veterans employed in the municipal government offices of Washington. When policemen began picking up jobless ex-solders on the streets, and bringing them to the Municipal building, mem-bers of the Costello post at work there heard about the cases, and so the post began to help these men out.

Now, Commander Franklin sees them, listens to their troubles, helps them out financially if necessary. He cannot find work for them, for there are few unoccupied jobs in Washington, But if a man arrives here "broke" and with any chance of a legitimate claim on the government which has not been settled, the post puts him up in a domintory for the time being, and gives him meals; and sometimes even a dollar for cigarettes to keep him contented. Then his case is brought to the attention of the proper official, and he is sent off-settled-in as few days as possible.

If obviously he has no claim—and Mr. Frank-in is an experienced judge—he is assisted to leave the city at once, so that he can get home or find work for himself elsewhere.

American Farm Values.

In 1910 the census found the value of all the farms in the United States to be $34$$61.125.697. In 1920 the census valuation was $66.324.308. 556. The figures had been nearly doubled in ten years. The average value of a farm' had risen in a decade from $5471 to $10.257. But, of course, the dollar was worth less in Jahuary, 1920, than it was in 1910 or is in 1921.

That group of grain growing States which is known as the West North Central and which includes Minnesota, lowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas reported an increased value in farms of thirteen billion dollars. Yet, there were those who doubted whether $2.25, wheat would be profitable. Iowa alone is credited with a rise of more than four billions in the value of her farms.

The figures are amazing until more astounding amounts are recalled. Take, for example, the total 1920 valuations of the farms of New England. New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the Solid South and the Mountain and Pacific States.

Letters May be Accessed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gasette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young good friends. Please give me your adwired lady with my second hushand. I have one little girl by my first husband. When we were first married, just a year ago today, he would come home and never greet either of us with a smile, but would sit down anywhere and would pout and act very dissatisfied. I felt as though I felt it was because we were just new to him.

I am of a jelly disposition and full of fun. To this day I can say that he has only changed for the worse. He mever quarrels or scools, but to my notion does things worse. He will say insulting things to me and then say he is ignorant of what he says and doesn't mean anything by it. Ho sits around and never holds a conversation with me. I can talk until midnight and occasionally he will murmur "yes" or "no." It makes me feel that I am not wanted or that he is sorry for the deal but hates to admit it.

De you think I ought to go away

Do you think I ought to go away temperarily to see if he would change his ways? Or should I keep on living as I have been without any pleasure? PUZZLED.

I think it would be an excelent plan for you to go away for a while. Your husband may miss you more than he thinks possible now and want you back so much that he will talk more and add cheer instead of gloom to the home.

To go on living in an unhappy state would be very bad for you and the child. It you can plan a way to get away for a while, by all means do so,

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a giri of 18. I had one giri friend whom I thought a lot of. We were good friends until her mother moved away friends until her mother moved away and then she had to stay with her step-father's sister. She didn't like me and told bad things about me and wouldn't let her go, with me. She sneaked out sometimes and we had

I only have one relative in this town, with whom I stay. Sometimes I don't know what to do. It makes me feel so blue. Would it be all right for me to have boy friends? I only know a few and they hardly ever ask me to go with them. I dress well enough.

Would it be all right to write to the girl's mother and ask her if she could go with me and tell her how the other lady has talked about me when everybody else speaks well on? The girl's mother said when she weg; away that she and I should be weg; away that she and I should be

Don't buck it, join the ranks of the ever increasing patrons of this busy store, as in "Postum", "There's a Reason." For Dollar Day we have prepared a banquet of Bargains which are listed on this page, read every item as the bargain of your choosing may be the very one that might escape your notice. A very good plan is to bring this advertisement with you. Of course, the "S. & H." Stamps are included with each cash sale, we give them freely. This is another avenue to the prudent shopper to save on what one spends, for do you realize that full books of these tokens are worth $2.00 to you? Say "Stamps, Please," to our salesforce and begin today to add your mite to the family's bank account. Sale begins Thursday A. M., 8:30. Bring the babies with you, and shop early in the day. Special note: Park your auto parallel to our store in our side alley, no restrictions, drive in.

Tremendous Cut in Prices in our August Sale

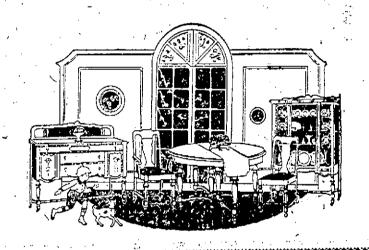

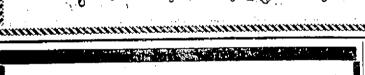

August Reductions Range From 20% to 50%.

In these days, discounts alone mean nothing unless you know something about the original prices from which these reductions are figured. Every customer of this store, every person in the community who has compared values here with those found in the ordinary furniture store will agree that our prices have been the lowest right through the period of inflation. Keeping a step ahead of the market, we have been reducing our prices regularly month after month for the past year and now with one stroke we reduce them still further.

MUSIC

is something which there is no substitute for, and which none of us can afford to be without.

Of course, we could live without music, but we should not be the same men and the same women that we could be if we had melody to cheer and inspire us.

A Schumann Player-Piano

will bring the best music in the world into any home. You can hear the greatest piano compositions of all ages in your home ANY day, if you like.

Or you can reproduce the most fascinating, whistle-producing tunes of the latest music shows almost as soon as the composer is through writing them.

Then, if the young people want to dance, they could have no more spirited or accurate accompaniment. Just ask them—they know.

Why, oh, why, will you folks—particularly those of you whose children have grown up, married and left home—WHY will you let that old piano sit around untouched when for so very little money it can be exchanged for an instrument that will give you not only REAL but ABUNDANT pleasure.

Confer With Us—we can give you some ideas on getting more joy out of life than you ever thought of.

Two more ambitious lads have won a bicycle for themselves. Both hoys went over the top neck to neck and today are riding one of the best made wheels in the world won by just a little effort.

best made wheels in the world won by just a little effort.

Frank Lewis of Janesville and Melvin Greene of Allen's Groye are the incky fellows along with Kenneth Johnson of this city and William Caple of the city of Brodilead, the first two boys to make the goal.

There are others coming and this week will see an extra effort on each one's part as the contest is only scheduled to run until September the first. One week more to make the grade, but one week ago Frank Lewis had only a matter of some five subscriptions so do not let the limited time interfere with your ambition if you are in the running, as one week of earnest endeavor is more than any live ony needs.

There has been a good deal of olitical emburgasment about the rehibition question. Many men who reliberal at heart have voted "dry" and many who have voted "wet" have hemselves been tectotalers. The trait-Saloon League by splendid organization has managed to erack the ganization has managed to track the whip over congress by taking advanage of public sentiment against the glood and other abuses. That same trength enabled the Anti-Saloon congue to put through the Volstead fromment act. But the reaction miniment which has developed since at law was put upon the statute tooks has encouraged the liberals and a prohibition officer to search with ust what public opinion is at present on the prohibition question.

Anti-Saloon League. It's the first time the senate has defied that organization. Drys joined with the wets in framing the Stanley amendment. This would never occur if the senate felt, that public sentiment was the same today as when the Volsead activate pushed through both houses.

Usually the Anti-Saloon League gots its legislation through in a hurry and without difficulty. The emergence of the search and seizure controversy is the most significant thing that has happened since the nation went dry. The Anti-Saloon League leaders are threatening to carry their fight to the political conventions of both parties, but so long as it is one section of the chances are remote that either convention will care to go on record against search and seizure without warrant.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy-because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!

Letters May be Accounted to Mira. Thompson, in Care of the Gassite.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married tady with my second husband. I have one little girl by my first husband. When we were first married, just a year ago today, he would come home and never greet either of us with a smile, but would sit down anywhere and would pout and act very dissatisfied. I felt as though I wasn't wanted at first and again I felt it was because we were just new to him.

I am of a jolly disposition and full of fun. To this day I can say that he has only changed for the worse. He never quarrels or scolds, but to my notion does things worse. He will say insulting things to me and then say he is ignorant of what he says and doesn't mean anything by it. Hasts around and never holds a conversation with me. I can talk until midnight and occasionally he will murmur "yes" or "no." It makes me feet that I am not wanted or that he is sorry for the deal but hates to admit it.

De you think I ought to go away temporarily to see if he would change his wars? Or should I keep on living the wars?

All persons taking children to the grounds are particularly asked by Director Lamoreaux to discharge their passongers at the top of the hill leading into Crystal Springs. This is done for safety's sake, the road being steep, stoney and narrow.

Expect Big Growd.

"We are expecting that at least 500 people will attend," said Mr. Lamoreaux Tuesday. "If the weather is good, we may have many more than that. We shall be able to accomodate all that come and again urge the parents to bring their children and join in again time."

Tennis Gathers Impetus Here: Tourneys Planned

Steps will soon be taken by the Janesville "Y" Tennis club to get started on a club net tournament to be held on the "Y" courts within the near future. The showing of the Bower City players in the Wisconsin state title meet, while the boys did not go high in the regular competition, was far better than anticipated. It has created a greater interest in the racquet game and promises to lay a firm foundation for building up the sport here.

The fact that Bennett went as far as the semi-finals in the consolation has opened the cycs of a large number. The work of Daiand, Nowian, Barrick and Persons has set the sporting world here to talklers. Now that a club meet is bound to be played, the game will gather considerable weight in local circles.

City Meet September.

Following the club classic, it is expected to pull off a city-wide meet some time in September. With the girls of the Young Women's Christian association also preparing for a tournament and a successful meet having been run off by the playgrounds, the city meet should be a winner.

Some work has been done on getting courts in shape at the Janeaville

May Select Janesville as Place for Basket Tourney

Selection of Janesville as the hattournaments to decide contenders for the Wisconsin state title in preparation for a tourney to pick the amuteur baskethall championship team of the central states is expected within the near future following a letter received by A. E. Bergman, physicial director of the local Y. M.
C. A. The letter came from Wayne
Emmelmann, secretary of the Amateur Independent Basketball Championship Organization for the Cen-

Emmelmann, secretary of the Amateur Independent Basketball Champlonship Organization for the Central States.

For Race Champion.

The plan is to pick by a method so "that a championship way." Sectional tournaments would be held in Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. Winners of these sectional nicets, would meet in a tourney to decided state champs. Then these state title winners would classh for the central championship.

It is planned to interest American Legions, Y. M. C. A.s. Sunday school and independent teams of a purely amateur nature in the scheme. By this method it is hoped to get ex-college and ex-school stars interested in the battles.

While awaiting more information upon the scheme, Director Bergman declared Monday that he is heartly in favor of the idea.

"It looks mighty good to me." he said. "I hope that Ianesville will be selected. If the Y. M. C. A. court is not large enough to furnish room for the spectators, we might be able to get the high school symmasium. All of these things serve not only to bring out talent but they let people know that Janesville is on the map in clean athletic competition. I have written to Mr. Emmelmann offering all the cooperation I can give and he has replied that he will keep me posted.

Don't buck it, join the ranks of the ever increasing patrons of this busy store, as in "Postum", "There's a Reason." For Dollar Day we have prepared a banquet of Bargains which are listed on this page, read every item as the bargain of your choosing may be the very one that might escape your notice. A very good plan is to bring this advertisement with you. Of course, the "S. & H." Stamps are included with each cash sale, we give them freely. This is another avenue to the prudent shopper to save on what one spends, for do you realize that full books of these tokens are worth $2.00 to you? Say, "Stamps, Please," to our salesforce and begin today to add your mite to the family's bank account. Sale begins Thursday A. M., 8:30. Bring the babies with you, and shop early in the day. Special note: Park your auto parallel to our store in our side alley, no restrictions, drive in.

is something which there is no substitute for, and which none of us can afford to be without.

Of course, we could live without music, but we should not be the same men and the same women that we could be if we had melody to cheer and inspire us.

A Schumann Player-Piano

will bring the best music in the world into any home. You can hear the greatest piano compositions of all ages in your home ANY day, if you like.

Or you can reproduce the most fascinating, whistle-producing tunes of the latest music shows almost as soon as the composer is through writing them.

Then, if the young people want to dance, they could have no more spirited or accurate accompaniment. Just ask them—they know.

Why, oh, why, will you folks—particularly those of you whose children have grown up, married and left home, WHY will you let that old piano sit around untouched when for so very little money it can be exchanged for an instrument that will give you not only REAL but ABUNDANT pleasure.

Confer With Us—we can give you some ideas on getting more joy out of life than you ever thought of.
